CZOLGOSZ COLLAPSES.

Fear of Prison and Death Causes Prisoner to Break Down.

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Czolgosz, President McKinley's murderer, in custody of Sheriff Caldwell of Erie county and 21 deputies, arrived in Auburn at 3:15 a. m. The prison is only about 50 yards from the depot. Awaiting the arrival of the train was a crowd of about 200 people. Either for fear of the crowd, or from the sight of the prison, Czolgosz's legs gave out and two deputy sheriffs were compelled to practically carry the man into the prison.

Inside the gate his condition became worse and he was dragged up stairs and into the main hall, and placed in a sitting position on a bench while the handcuffs were being removed, but fell over and moaned and groaned, evincing most abject terror.

As soon as his handcuffs were unlocked, the man was dragged into the principal keeper's office. As in the case of all prisoners, the officers immediately proceeded to strip him and put on a new suit of clothes. During the operation, Czolgosz cried and yelled. Prison Physician Gerin examined the man and ordered his removal to the cell in the condemned row.

His collapse was a surprise to every one. En route from Buffalo he showed no indication of breaking down. He ate heartily of sandwiches and smoked cigars when not eating, talked and expressed regret for his crime and said: "I am especially sorry for Mrs. McKinley."

He reiterated his former statements and declared he never heard of the man under arrest in St. Louis who claimed to have tied the handkerchief over his hand, concealing the pistol with which the president was shot. He says the handkerchief was not tied. He went behind the Temple of Music, arranged the handkerchief so as to hide the weapon, and then took his place in the crowd.

The Subjection of Man.

"No, I never have a bit of trouble with my husband," remarked the tall little woman, with the intelligent face. "In fact, I have him right under my thumb."

"You mistake me, my dear. It's a mental, not a physical subjection." "Would you mind telling me how?"

"Not a bit! Always glad to help any one clear of the rocks. First of all, you must know that a man in love is the biggest sort of a fool, and says things that make him almost wild when he hears 'em in after-life. I realized it, and from the very beginning of our courtship I kept a photograph in the room, and every speech he made was duly recorded. Now, whenever my husband gets a little bit obstreperous I just turn out a record or so, and heaven! how he does rave, but he can't deny it. They always will, though, if you don't have proof positive."

"Thank you," gratefully murmured the engaged girl. "I'll get a photograph this very day."—Tit Bits.

THE JOHN ROBINSON SHOWS.

A Gorgeous, Sumptuous and Impressive Augmentation.

The acme of scenic splendor was reached when John Robinson produced the great spectacle of Solomon. His temple and the Queen of Sheba. No court was greater than Solomon's, and as historically reproduced with dozens of calcium and Vari-colored lights on the brilliant costumes and scintillating armor, it has received unstinted praise from all who have been fortunate enough to witness the grand spectacle.

The circus has been characterized as the most interesting in its unexceptional features and in the general excellence of its ring performances. The menagerie is large and comprehensive and includes living specimens of the rarest beasts, birds, reptiles and amphibians.

The colossal Roman hippodrome is in itself a feature that has no duplication and carries the spectator back to Imperial Caesar's day.

The show will exhibit at Raleigh Thursday October 10th.

A Gallant Retreat.

From Tit-Bits. (playfully)—How old are you, Miss Brown?

She—I cannot tell a lie. I—

He—Oh, if that is the case, I will not take a mean advantage of you. I withdraw the question.

Cure for Asthma and Hay Fever.

The statement published below confirms the claim of Dr. Schiffmann that he has now discovered an absolute remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever.

Mrs. Mary Zachary, Pleasant Hill La., says: "I have found your Asthma Cure a permanent cure for asthma, for which I used it 7 years ago. I have never had the slightest return of the trouble since. I have also found your remedy excellent in Bronchial Affections. I shall ever have a feeling of gratitude for the benefits derived from your Cure."

A Hay Fever sufferer writes:—"I have had Hay Fever for 14 years. I bought a package of your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure), of our druggists and due to its use this is the first summer that I have not been troubled." Mrs. Frank Gullie, 6237 Ridge Avenue, Roxboro, Philadelphia.

COTTON CROWERS

MEET IN RALEIGH AND ORGANIZE TO FIGHT FOR THEIR RIGHTS.

PRICE OF COTTON SEED TOO LOW

Committees Appointed and Resolutions Adopted—Issue an Address—Constitution and By-Laws to be Submitted at Next Meeting in This City to be Held Wednesday of Fair Week.

The cotton growers held a convention in this city last week in the Agricultural building.

The convention was called to order by Secretary T. B. Parker of the State Farmers' Alliance, who said that prior to the last meeting of the Alliance he had received a letter from a prominent cotton grower in which it was stated that the cotton oil companies were getting options on the mills of the South and there was a probability that there would be a change in the price of seed.

In accordance with suggestions there made, the Alliance appointed a committee which met and adopted resolutions and these were issued to the cotton farmers and ginners of the State.

The chairman called Dr. R. H. Speight of Edgecombe, to the chair. The chairman requested Mr. Parker to act as secretary, and Mr. Thomas J. Conger of Iredell, was chosen assistant secretary.

A call of the counties showed the following represented:

Wake—Jeff. Upchurch, Dr. Sorrell, Fab. Whitaker, Haywood Knight, J. W. Jones, Sam Wilder, Nick Allen, Bryan Harrison, Robert Yates, Kimbro Jones, Bryan Smith, J. B. Broughton, Plummer Batchelor, Ransom Hinton.

Wayne—J. B. Gardner, Anderson Peele, H. T. Jones, J. S. Person, J. P. Smith, J. W. Thompson, J. A. Stephenson.

Orange—Robt. L. Abernathy, E. A. Hughes, T. B. Parker.

Davidson—Roy G. Craven.

Sampson—W. J. Powell.

Cumberland—D. B. Culbreth, T. R. Ballard.

Hallifax—W. R. Clark.

Pasquotank—M. N. Sawyer, J. W. Hollowell.

Iredell—Thos. J. Conger.

Mecklenburg—Leander Query, W. T. Craven.

Harnett—Dan Hugh McLean.

Robeson—T. F. Toon.

Pamlico—W. H. Sawyer.

Edgecombe—W. R. Cox, R. H. Speight, J. M. B. Battle.

Beaufort—J. W. Thompson, M. J. Whitley, W. P. Grimes.

Chatham—J. N. Atwater, T. E. Carroll, J. J. Jenkins, John W. Atwater, Everett Bryant.

Franklin—Robert Cooper.

Scotland—Hector McLean.

Tyrrell—J. C. Meekins.

After some discussion Col. J. Bryan Grimes moved the appointment of committees on organization, plans, resolutions, and the following gentlemen were named:

Plans—S. L. Patterson, M. N. Sawyer, E. A. Hughes, Hector McLean, D. B. Culbreth, T. B. Parker, being added by motion.

Organization—J. Bryan Grimes, J. A. Stephenson, L. Query, J. N. Atwater and Thomas J. Conger.

tions were based on figures given him by Mr. D. A. Tompkins of Charlotte, an authority on the subject. Col. Grimes said the convention ought to recommend to the farmers that they demand 25 cents per bushel for their cotton seed, and they should be satisfied with no less.

Resolutions.

The report of the committee on resolutions followed:

"Whereas, The cotton crop is short and there is an increased demand for cotton seed for feeding, fertilizer and other purposes; and whereas, the present offerings of seed are below the real value of the seed:

"Be it resolved, That it is the deliberate judgment of this convention that seed are now worth to the farmer at home 25 cents a bushel or should be exchanged on a basis of 2,000 pounds of seed for not less than 1,300 pounds of cotton seed meal to analyze 81 per cent ammonia, and we advise and urge the cotton farmers of North Carolina not to sell or exchange at less than above prices, and we ask the earnest cooperation of every cotton grower in North Carolina to this end.

"That we invite the cotton growing States to form Cotton Farmers' associations and assist in securing and maintaining these prices for cotton seed."

The report was adopted, but later in the evening Mr. Abernathy moved to reconsider and make the minimum for seed 30 cents. This was defeated. The question was again brought up and the vote was to reconsider, but no change was made in the price.

A motion was adopted changing the basis of exchange from 1,300 to 1,333 pounds of meal for a ton of seed.

Association's Plans.

The report of the committee on plans, which was adopted as follows:

"The committee on plans respectfully recommends:

"By careful analyses and feeding tests it has been ascertained that cotton seed are worth fully 25 cents per bushel, compared with other ammoniacs as a fertilizer, and are worth 40 cents per bushel as stock food, compared with the present value of corn.

"We therefore urge the farmers of North Carolina not to sell their cotton seed for less than 25 cents per bushel, so as to realize at least the lowest value of their seed.

"In order that the highest value may be obtained in a rational way, more cattle ought to be raised on the farms to consume the surplus seed. This policy would not only secure the fullest value of the seed as food stuff, but by decreasing the supply of seed in the markets would greatly enhance the value of the seed in their relation as fertilizers, and the oil from the seed for the various uses to which it is put.

"We urge farmers wherever possible to build co-operative mills for grinding their own and neighbor's seed, and go out loose from and be independent of the evil combinations against their seed rewards.

"Rather than sell seed for less than 25 cents per bushel, we urge farmers, to whom it may be inconvenient to exchange their seed for meal, to use the seed direct as fertilizer, either in compost or by direct application, for they may be fully assured their land will market the seed and return better values than purchasers who combine to beat down the price.

"Shall the farmer become independent of the cotton seed oil trust, and of the tobacco trust, and of the cotton trust? He can do so only by a system of diversified farming and stock raising, and securing to himself the ability to hold his products until he can force the market instead of being its slave."

Next Meeting.

On the motion of Colonel Grimes the convention decided to hold the next meeting in Raleigh on Wednesday of Fair week.

Mr. Whitaker of Wake moved a vote of thanks to the newspaper for publishing advance notices and to the railroads for reduced rates. Carried.

Secretary Parker suggested the issuance of an address to the cotton growers.

Gen. W. R. Cox thought nothing would terrorize the trust so much as the resolution adopted showing that the farmers proposed to be independent, and that an address was the best way in which to reach the farmers. A committee composed of General Cox, Mr. S. L. Patterson and Mr. J. W. Atwater was appointed to prepare the address.

An address to the cotton farmers of the state was read and adopted, and an executive committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws, to be submitted at the next meeting of the convention.

This committee is composed as follows: W. H. Clark, of Edgecombe; J. A. Stevens, of Wayne; J. W. Atwater, of Chatham; S. L. Patterson, Commissioner of Agriculture; B. H. Thompson, of Beaufort; and Hector McLean, of Scotland.

An Address.

To the Cotton Farmers of North Carolina.

At a meeting of delegates appointed to assemble in Raleigh on the 25th inst., for the purpose of considering and deciding on the best method of securing a just and reasonable price for our cotton seed, it was agreed to organize under the name of "The North Carolina Cotton Farmers' State Association," and make such recommendations to those engaged in raising cotton as might secure the end in view.

After full information presented by the State Agricultural Department of the intrinsic value of cotton seed, supplemented by the individual knowledge and experience of the farmers present in relation to them, the following recommendations were made, and the undersigned appointed a committee to briefly outline the conclusions of the convention:

That we should not dispose of our seed in case of sale, for less than twenty-five cents per bushel, or when exchanging the same to mills we should not receive less than 1,333 1-3 pounds of meal, analyzing 71 per cent ammonia for a ton of seed. This price was based on present price of cotton seed meal and oil. If these products advance in price the seed should sell at a higher price than 25 cents per bushel. In the event we are not able to sell on exchange on these terms, then 30 cents per bushel should be the minimum price for seed.

The report was adopted, but later in the evening Mr. Abernathy moved to reconsider and make the minimum for seed 30 cents. This was defeated. The question was again brought up and the vote was to reconsider, but no change was made in the price.

A motion was adopted changing the basis of exchange from 1,300 to 1,333 pounds of meal for a ton of seed.

SEABOARD AIR LINE WRECK.

The Florida and Metropolitan Limited Thrown from the Track by a Miscalculation.

Train No. 34, Florida and Metropolitan Limited, Seaboard Air Line, was wrecked at 1:22 a. m., Saturday morning at Cameron, about forty miles south of Raleigh. The train was making about twenty five or thirty miles an hour and was slowing down for the stop at Cameron. The engine, two express cars and two second-class coaches were wrecked. Little damage was done to the mail car.

One of the express cars was turned over. The second express coach was telescoped by one of the second class coaches. The front end of one of the first-class coaches was off the track.

The persons injured besides the engineer and fireman were all in the second-class coach, which telescoped the express car.

The injured are: J. K. Wright, engineer, of Raleigh; cut about the head and bruised generally.

Henry Price (colored), fireman, of Raleigh; back, arms and legs injured slightly.

Mr. R. O. King, of Raleigh; nose and hip injured.

Samy McVey (colored), Lemon Springs laborer; legs bruised.

Johnson Battle (colored), of Lemon Springs; leg broken.

Official Statement.

A statement issued from the supervising office here is to the effect that the derailment occurred on a straight line, the track being in first-class condition, with solid ball and where the track was recently ditched. The track was in first-class condition as to alignment and surface. Just beyond where the train was derailed a small watery trestle was destroyed by the wreckage, the engine striking it on the cross-ties.

There had been no rain in the vicinity up to the time the derailment occurred. A heavy freight train, 10:50 o'clock, and the track was in perfect condition at that time. An investigation of the wreck showed beyond doubt that it was caused maliciously by some person or persons unknown.

Malignant Act.

The track had been tampered with, as spikes were found lying on the heads of the ties, with the points turned toward the rails. It was plainly seen where some one had crawled under the tool-house near the point where the accident occurred, and pulled a crowbar out, making a plain hole in the ground where the bar was pulled through the hole in the floor. The spikes were drawn and the rail forced out, making the gauge wide enough to allow the engine to drop. The crowbar with three spikes drawn were found at a fence, where the party had thrown it after he had accomplished his purpose.

The injured were all brought to Raleigh, and so far as known, none are fatally or dangerously injured.

The company expects to run down the parties who wrecked the train, regardless of the expense incurred.

McKinley's Will.

Canton, O., Sept. 27.—By terms of the will of the late President McKinley his entire estate, both real and personal, is bequeathed to Mrs. McKinley during her natural life. A charge is made in the will for the payment of an annuity of $1,000 to his sister, Miss Helen McKinley.

The will was made about two months prior to the death of his mother. The document is in President McKinley's handwriting, and is written on the note paper of the executive mansion. The last clause reads: My chief concern is that my wife from my estate shall have all she requires for her comfort and pleasures, and that my mother shall be provided with whatever money she requires to make her old age comfortable and happy."

The estate is worth between $250,000 and $500,000, including $67,000 life insurance.

Harvesting With Automobiles.

The cost of harvesting wheat on the Pacific Coast has been so lessened, by the use of automobiles, that a greater amount of the grain can be produced at the same actual expense than in the Argentine Republic, where labor costs only a fraction of a dollar a day. The large automobile traction engines, now used in California, are of fifty horse power, and are provided with driving wheels sixty inches in diameter. They do the plowing, planting, and harvesting, in their proper seasons. One traction engine performs the triple work of plowing, harrowing, and planting, in one operation.

Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece who had contracted an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as infallible as any other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed. ## DAY WHEN GARFIELD DIED.

McKinley Buried on Twentieth Anniversary of That Successful Election.

On the 19th of September, 1881, James Abram Garfield died, and just twenty years afterwards the anniversary of that day, the mortal remains of William McKinley were carried to the tomb.

On the 27th of February, 1882, James G. Blaine delivered an eulogy on President Garfield in the House of Representatives. Handsome cards of invitation to the memorial service were issued. These cards were designed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. They are bordered by a narrow band of black. In the center is an excellent engraving of the second martyred President; above the engraving are the words, "Memorial Service of James Abram Garfield," on one side of the engraving are the words, "President March 4, 1881. Died September 19, 1881. Age forty-nine years;" on the other side of the engraving are the words, "Eulogy by Hon. James G. Blaine, House of Representatives, February 27, 1882." In the background are American flags draped with crape, the Capitol, and the White House.

The invitation is signed with the facsimile signature of the chairman of the Senate and House committees. For the Senate committee that of President McKinley's first Secretary of State, John Sherman, is attached. Opposite is the other signature, which reads, "William McKinley, Jr., Chairman House Committee."

Harmonizing Temper in Marriage.

Far more difficult than the mere harmonizing of opinions is, in married life, the harmonizing of tempers; while many people have no opinions worth mentioning on any subject, the humblest and most ignorant can set up a temper. Nothing can deal with tempers except conscience and time. I have known young married couples with whom it was unpleasant to be in the house during the first year of their marriage; and yet habit and their necessity made their society tolerable within two years, and positively agreeable in five. The presence of children is a help to this complacency, as being the one possession absolutely shared and necessarily accepted by each parent. Another great aid to the harmonizing of tempers is, indeed, something precious, as a permanent rule—is to study mutually may be called the equation of preferences,—that is, to form a habit of considering, when husband and wife differ about any matter, which of the two has really the most reason to "care about it. Thus it may sometimes make little difference to the wife whether breakfast is early or late, while a late breakfast may cost the husband his morning train; or a carriage may be a very important matter to a wife with her skirts to take care of, while it may make no serious difference to the husband whether he walks or rides. It is surely better that one should make a little sacrifice, on any matter, than that the other should make far greater one. Many a household jar which would have left prolonged stings behind it, if made a mere test of will and persistence, is settled easily when the equation of preferences is applied to it, and each is ready to make a little sacrifice to save the other from a greater one.—From "Success in Marriage," by Professor Thomas Wentworth Higginson, in October "Success."

Will Not Support Him.

The Nebraska Independent says: To relieve the intense anxiety suffered by Brother Roosevelt let "the Democrats and Popes" which by his writings seems to cause him many sleepless nights. The Independent wishes to say that the Democrats can't do it. The organization of the Populist party will be maintained in Nebraska without a break in any county in the State. As long as there is a Dave Hill, Cleveland or Whitney in the Democratic party, Populism will refuse to be swallowed. We hope that this plain statement will be a great comfort to the Bee and that he will cease to rest restlessly upon his bed, dreading the awful calamities that will follow the swallowing of the Popes by the Democrats.

The Nebraska Independent is the recognized organ of the Peoples party of Nebraska, and we are glad to see that it has taken the above position. We believe it voices the sentiments of the Populist party of the whole nation.

It is now practically certain that ex-Senator D. B. Hill or Mr. Whitney, or some so-called Democrat of that stripe will be the next nominee for President. Of course that means a Third party candidate for President in the field and a vigorous campaign which will poll more votes for such candidate than was received by Weaver in 1892. We take it that President Roosevelt will receive the nomination of his party, and as between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hill, the CAUCASIAN feels like saying it would rather see the former President.

THE STOMACH OF MAN is subject to a dozen such common but painful affections as cramps, cholera morbus and dysentery, that by neglect may be made chronic and dangerous. The best, handiest, surest and quickest remedy is Pain Killer, a medicine which has been tried for more than half a century and never failed to give relief. ## SENTENCED TO DEATH.

THE PRESIDENT'S ASSASSIN WILL MEET HIS DOOM IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR.

IN THE WEEK OF OCTOBER THE 28TH.

Trembling the Prisoner Learns his Punishment He Addresses the Court and Says he Alone was Implicated in the Crime—Taken to Auburn Prison Where Execution Will Take Place.

Buffalo, Sept. 26.—Justice White this afternoon sentenced Leon F. Czolgosz to death at Auburn prison during the week of October 28. The assassin of President McKinley received the sentence standing with his hand on back of a chair. He had meant to make an address to the court, but his voice failed him and he could only struggle through a few words in a tone so low that they did not reach Justice White, and each had to be repeated by the counsel.

It was five minutes before the time for convening court when the assassin was brought in. He was nervous and his left hand visited his coat pocket from time to time, brought out his handkerchief and wiped his face. Judge Titus and Carlton Land, of his counsel sat with him. Judge Lewis was not in court.

The session of court today lasted eleven minutes. District Attorney Penney looking at the assassin, said in a clear voice: "I move sentence in the case of the people against Leon F. Czolgosz, your honor."

To the assassin: "Stand up, Czolgosz, please."

The assassin arose and steadied himself by resting his left hand on the back of the chair in front of him.

Crier How then swore Czolgosz to "make true answers to such questions as shall be put to you."

Mr. Penney proceeded to ask him the usual questions to which he answered in a low voice. He seemed unable to control his voice. In answer to questions he said he was 28 years old, was born in Detroit and had lived last at Novak's Hotel, in Broadway, Buffalo. He gave his trade as a laborer and said he was single. He had attended small common schools and the schools of the Catholic church. He had attended the Catholic church. His mother was dead and his father was living.

He was then asked if he had any legal cause to show why sentence of the court should not be now pronounced against him. The question had to be repeated twice, and then he replied in the negative. Questioned further, he said he would like to make a statement. The court pointed out that what he said must relate explicitly the subject in hand. He might claim he was insane or that he had good cause to offer either in arrest of judgment or for a new trial.

The defendant said he had nothing to say about that. Judge Titus, after conferring with the prisoner, said he thought he ought to be permitted to make a statement in explanation of his family. The court finally allowed Czolgosz to proceed.

The defendant: I would like to say this much. That the crime was committed by no one else but me; no one told me to do it; and I never told anybody to do it.

Mr. Titus—Your father and mother had nothing to do with it?

The defendant: No sir; not only my father and mother, but there was not anybody else had nothing to do with this.

He spoke so low that Mr. Titus had to repeat his words to the court. Then the defendant went on: "I never told anything to nobody. I never told anything of that kind. I never thought of that until a couple of days before I committed the crime."

This also had to be repeated.

The court—Anything further, Czolgosz?

The defendant: No sir.

The court—Czolgosz, in taking the life of our beloved President you committed a crime which shocked and outraged the moral sense of the civilized world. You have confessed your guilt and, after learning all that at this time can be learned of the facts and circumstances of the case, twelve good men have pronounced your confession true and have found you guilty of murder in the first degree. You declare according to the testimony or credible witnesses, that no other person aided or abetted you in the commission of this terrible act. God grant it may be so. The penalty for the crime of which you stand convicted is fixed by statute, and it now becomes my duty to pronounce its judgment against you. The sentence of the court is that in the week beginning October 28, 1901, at the place, in the manner and by the means prescribed by law, you suffer the punishment of death.

There was a momentary pause. Then Justice White's voice sounded "Remove the prisoner."

The death warrant is directed to the agent and warden of Auburn prison. After a formal recital of the conviction of Czolgosz for the murder of William McKinley, it says:

"You are hereby ordered, commanded and required to execute the said sentence upon the said Leon F. Czolgosz on some day within the week commencing Monday, the 28th day of October, 1901, the time of the execution within said week to be left to your discretion, and within the walls of said state's prison or within the yard or enclosure adjoining thereto, by then and there causing to pass through the body of him, the said Leon F. Czolgosz, a current of electricity of sufficient intensity to cause death, and that the application of said current of electricity be continued until he, the said Leon F. Czolgosz, be dead."

"Given under my hand and seal of this court this 26th day of September, 1901."

(Signed) "FRANK C. WHITE, "Justice of the Supreme Court."

THE FOWLER-THOMAS CONTEST

The Raleigh Post, commenting upon the brief filed by counsel for Mr. Fowler in his contest in the third Congressional district, in part says:

"Former Congressman Fowler, now contesting the election of Hon. C. R. Thomas, or his counsel, have wasted much time and paper in the preparation of the case for the House.

For instance: There is no pretense made by Mr. Fowler and his counsel that fraud or irregularity occurred in but two precincts of Craven county, but if only those precincts are thrown out, and the remainder of the returns for the county are admitted, Mr. Thomas will still have a majority; so, to establish Mr. Fowler's claim, because of the alleged frauds in the two precincts, the vote of the whole county should be eliminated it is urged. Upon such flimsy pretext does the ex-Congressman attempt to sustain his pretensions to the seat now filled by Mr. Thomas.

The Post then proceeds to say that ex-Senator Butler and Gov. Russell, the counsel for Mr. Fowler, in their brief deal in wild charges and accusations against the conduct of Democratic election officials etc.

Now we challenge the Post to point out a single statement made in the brief that is not sustained by the printed testimony. In fact, the brief gives only a slight insight into the thievery, rascality and lawlessness of the last campaign in that district.

The only point which the Post attempts to make against the brief is that it asks for the throwing out of a whole county, instead of the throwing out only of the two townships in which the rascality and thievery were most pronounced. In fact, the Post practically admits that these two townships should be thrown out for the frauds proven, but it objects to the throwing out of the whole county on account of these two rotten townships. If the editor of the Post had read the brief he would have found a complete answer to this alleged objection. We let the following extract from the brief speak for itself:

"It is insisted by the contestant that the vote from the entire county of Craven, upon the fraud which has been disclosed by the evidence, should be excluded. It appears that, for the purpose of consummating the fraudulent schemes, 1,600 Republican voters were placed in two precincts, 1,100 in one, and 500 in the other, and that in these two precincts registrars were imported who had no acquaintance with the voting population and who made unreasonable demands upon the population for identification before they were permitted to register. It appears from the testimony that if there had been a fair registration as a matter of fact it was a physical impossibility for the voters who had been fraudulently and arbitrarily placed in Berne precinct to have voted during one election day. It appears from the evidence that the majority which was obtained by Mr. Thomas in this county is not made up of the increased vote cast for him, but that it was obtained by the suppression through these fraudulent means of at least 1,600 Republican votes, as appears from the vote cast in the said county at the election held in the preceding election held in 1896.

"It also appears that of this number so suppressed, at least 1,000 were suppressed in the precincts of Berne and Thurman. It is therefore insisted that if nothing else appears and no other pretext of this county was attacked, that the conduct of the election in these two precincts, the methods employed and the votes suppressed have had such an effect upon the result throughout the entire county that justice can only be done and the confirmation of these frauds prevented by the rejection of the whole county. It can be seen that if methods such as these are permitted to be employed, and the only penalty which can be visited upon the guilty is the exclusion of the particular precinct in which the fraud was perpetrated, that fraud, instead of imposing a penalty, becomes a means of conferring benefits. To illustrate, if one political party which has the election machinery in its hands, but which is in a large minority in a county like the county of Craven, desired to suppress the popular will and to convert an adverse majority into a friendly one, it would have nothing to do but to place all the voters or a large majority of them, as was done in the county of Craven, in a few voting precincts, induce fraud to be practiced openly, and, when the party that had suffered from the fraud sought redress, to contend that the remedy was to exclude the whole of those precincts and count simply the rest of the county. Such injustice cannot be tolerated by a body which enforces the law both in its letter and its spirit. Even if the committee exclude the vote in the county of Craven, it has done the contestant but half justice. It appears from the evidence in this case that there has been no change of political sentiment in the county of Craven in the past two years. While the attempt has been made by the contestant to show that his success was made possible by the fact that the contestant was a Populist, and that the Republicans would not support him, yet it appears that the contestant representing the same political party in that district in the years 1896, 1898 and 1900, and that in each of those elections he had received the general support of the Republicans in the county. That in the election held in 1896 he had received over 3,000 votes, and a majority over his opponent of over 1,200. That in the election of 1898 he had received about 2,900 votes and a majority over the contestant of about 900, and it appears from the testimony that, without any large or substantial increase in the vote of the contestant over the vote which he had received in the preceding election, he has received a majority over the contestant of over 900. It is patent to any person who reads the testimony and scans the result, that this result was made possible and was completed solely through the suppression of the Republican vote. If this vote had been allowed a full, fair and free expression, the contestant would, it can be confidently asserted, have received a large majority in this county. If the House does what it is asked to do in this case it cannot give the contestant full justice, and count for him the majority which he should have received upon a fair and honest election, but it simply does him half justice, and prevents the contestant from receiving the majority which is half the fruits of the frauds of his friends."

Now if the editor of the Post has not the mental capacity to comprehend the above, it would be useless for us to attempt to further enlighten him. It was clearly the purpose of the Democratic election officials to openly commit such frauds in these two townships to make it certain that they must be thrown out. So they put over half of the Republican vote of the county in these two precincts. If such a policy as this is to be tolerated, then the party in absolute charge of the election machinery can change the majority by such methods in nearly every county in the state and in every Congressional district in the United States.

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE.

The proceedings of the Schley Court of Inquiry up to this time have proven one thing conclusively, namely, that if it is in the power of the Navy Department to bring it about Admiral Schley will be made to suffer severely because he is not a favorite of the "Crownshield-Sampson clique which dominates the administration of our naval affairs.

An exceedingly spirited picture of relentless vindictiveness is afforded by the antics of Lemly and Hanna, the two comedians to whom the Navy Department has entrusted the task of convincing the high-minded gentlemen who constitute the court of the enormity of the guilt of Admiral Schley in being present and doing his duty at the battle of Santiago, while the alleged commander-in-chief, with two of the best ships of the fleet, was miles away. As a matter of fact, what was meant to be a court of inquiry merely to find out the truth in regard to certain controverted matters has degenerated into a prosecution, which, viewed in the most favorable light, amounts really to a persecution. The efforts of Judge Advocate Lemly and his understudy, Hanna, seem so far to have been directed to securing testimony calculated to prove injurious to Schley. Disregarding the prime and immediate function of such a court as is now sitting in Washington, their whole energies seem to be bent in an attempt to bring to the dust the name and fame of the man who next to Dewey gained the foremost place among the naval heroes of the Spanish war. On the opening day of the investigation Lemly referred to him as "the accused," but was promptly corrected by the court. Since then, however, Hanna has likewise spoken of Schley as "the accused." It is plain that the court does not take this view of the matter, but, probably despairing of changing the view point of the department, allowed Mr. Hanna to continue his remarks without rebuke.

The testimony so far adduced has been mainly remarkable for the great variety of opinions different witnesses have held in regard to the same subject matters. Hardly two witnesses have agreed on any one point, although all the officers testifying have been, up to this time, witnesses for the department. One man testifies that the ships of Schley's squadron blockading Cienfuegos harbor were 25 miles out at night, and the next witness says that they were never more than five or six miles out and were nearer at night than during the day. Another officer says that on May 26th and 27th the sea was as smooth as glass and the ships could readily have coaled; while the subsequent witness unqualifiedly asserts that the weather was rough and boisterous and that it would be unsafe to coal. The testimony has become so diverse that the Department has actually been driven to absolutely repudiate one of its own official reports in order that one of its witnesses might not be made ridiculous.

For malicious injustice and disregard of the principles of equity and fair play the Dreyfus trial in France has heretofore been accorded the first place. It may safely be left in the hands of the Sampson ring, however, to lower the record and out Dreyfus even the iniquitous Dreyfus trial.

MOB LAW AND ITS REMEDY.

It is safe to say that if all the judges on the bench of North Carolina dealt with guilty criminals in the manner employed by Judge Robinson at the criminal term of the Wake county Superior court last week lawlessness and mob law would soon expire for want of opportunity to disport themselves. Mob law is begotten of contempt for judicial administration of justice. When courts are lax in their efforts and fail to throw around the community the safeguards to which every citizen is entitled in being protected from the criminally inclined, men are prone to take into their own hands the means of punishment and redress which belong solely to the courts. Thus crime breeds upon crime, and men grow to look with composure and indifference upon violations of law, particularly when such violations are participated in by many.

To be merciful is good; to be just is better. The truest mercy is that which has the whole community for its object; the highest form of justice is that which looks to protect the innocent. It seems that this has been exemplified by the able judge who presided over court last week. But however that may be, the firmness and fearlessness of Judge Robinson cannot fail to have a most wholesome effect. There is no danger to our country more potent than disrespect for law and the means of enforcing law, and the surest way to lessen that danger is for the courts to promptly, fearlessly, and rigorously deal with those who refuse to obey the mandates of the law.

RESULTS OF ANARCHY AND MOB LAW COMPARED.

The assassin of President McKinley was tried on Monday and Tuesday of last week, and convicted. Judge Lewis, the able counsel assigned by the court to defend the assassin, devoted almost his entire speech to a discussion of the causes of anarchy and a comparison of the same with mob violence, lynching and general lawlessness on the part of those who do not claim to be anarchists. The Judge boldly took the position that the peace of society and the perpetuity of the government were more endangered by the conduct of those who joined in mob law and other kinds of violence than by those who profess to believe in anarchistic doctrines and attempt to carry them out by the assassination of individuals. Indeed, he took the position that this government could never be endangered by the anarchists, however dangerous and vengeful the class might be to individuals and office holders, to the extent that mob law and lawlessness may endanger it. If he had been familiar with the situation in North Carolina he would, in describing mob rule, have referred to the lawless gang of red shirts who terrorized different communities during the last campaign in this state.

Judge Robinson, in his charge to the grand jury last week, covered nearly the same points as those covered by Judge Lewis.

STREET INCIDENT.

"My Dear Sir," exclaimed lawyer Bartholomew Livingston, meeting the Rev. Dr. Archibald Winham on the village street, "What does this mean? I thought you were laid up with all sorts of bad diseases!" "And so I was," replied the reverent gentleman, "I had an attack of indigestion and from that time on my whole system has been in a disordered condition until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which has put me on my feet and cured all my stomach troubles."

"I don't doubt it," said the lawyer. "This same medicine cured my wife of rheumatism and my little girl of scrofula. When they say it's the best medicine money can buy, they only tell the truth."

"Yes, yes, so they do," replied the minister, and the two passed on.

THE CORPORATION COMMISSION AND TAXATION.

The people of North Carolina have during the last few days been treated to a remarkable spectacle. The laws of North Carolina make it the duty of the Corporation Commission to assess all railroad property for taxation at its true value. This the Corporation Commission, it seems, has failed to do, whereupon the Sheriff of Beaufort county has applied to the Courts for a mandamus to direct the Commission to do what the law requires it to do. This mandamus was heard before Judge Robinson in Raleigh last week and we had the remarkable spectacle of the Corporation Commission and the Attorney General of the State appearing before the Judge and resisting the effort to have them comply with the law.

It seems that the Corporation Commission admits that it has not taxed the property of the railroads at its true value, and further admits that the value of this property is increasing from five to ten million dollars a year, yet the commissioners insist that under their understanding of the law the legislature of 1901 did not intend them to assess this property until 1903. In short their position seems to be that while this property should be taxed, yet the Legislature has exempted the property until 1903 and directed them how to assess the property in that year. If the Legislature of 1901 could direct the Commission to exempt property for a certain length of time and then direct it how at a future time, after another Legislature has met and adjourned, to assess property for taxation, then it is in the power of the Legislature to exempt property for a hundred years and direct the Commission in the year 2003 how to assess this property. This would seem to be the essence of absurdity.

Judge Robinson, however, has denied the application for a mandamus, though we are not yet informed as to the grounds upon which he bases his action.

A CHICAGO DENTIST

Relates How He Found a Cure for Systemic Catarrh.

R. A. Norris, D.D.S.

R. A. Norris, Doctor of Dental Surgery, 125 State Street, Chicago, Ill., writes to The Peruna Medicine Company as follows:

"I desire to express for the benefit of the public my experience with the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. I was afflicted with catarrh of the head and throat for twelve years. I had tried many remedies without avail. I applied to several doctors, but they were not able to cure me. I learned of the remedy, Peruna, through your pamphlets and took it for four months. It entirely cured me, and as I took the remedy three years ago, I consider the cure permanent."

Hon. Clement M. Hammond is one of the best known newspaper men in New York City. Writing to The Peruna Medicine Co., he says:

"For about six years I have had trouble every fall and winter with my voice. At times it has extended to my bronchial tubes and lungs. I think all this trouble came from whooping cough, which I had when I was about twelve years old, and which left me with catarrh. Since I have taken Peruna, my voice has been clearer than in over two years, all of which I am willing to testify to." Mr. Hammond's address is "The Arlington," 64 Montague street Brooklyn, N. Y.

Only a Mask.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

THE CAUCASIAN

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26, 1901.

Entered at the Post Office in Raleigh, N. C., as second-class mail matter.

STATE NEWS.

A new post-office has been established at Lufkin, Gaston county, Arthur F. McKenzie, postmaster.

Winston-Salem, Sept. 30.—Winston shipped 1,343,180 pounds of manufactured tobacco this month.

The tearing down of the old Fraps building in Raleigh began Monday, preparatory to the construction of the handsome building of the Carolina Trust Company.

Forty-seven applicants for licenses as attorneys were examined before the Supreme Court in Raleigh on Monday. The examination was entirely written. Two of the applicants were colored.

Four big freshets occurred in Deep river this year. The wheat crop was ruined in May and June and very little corn will be gathered this fall from low lands along the stream.—Sanford Express.

Former colored Congressman White, of this State, called on President Roosevelt last Monday morning. White, it is understood, desires an office and is not very particular what it is so the salary be good. He says Roosevelt has always treated the colored race fairly, as American citizens and not as negroes, and that is all they desire now.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 30.—The revenue receipts for the month of September amounted to $145,838.98. Durham pays more revenue than any town in the Eastern district, but still we have no government building. It is to be hoped that the agitation for a public building and union depot for Durham will be kept up until our importance will be considered by those in authority.

The Fisherman & Farmer suggests another candidate for the Supreme Court judgeship as follows: While other men are being spoken of, his friends take pleasure in presenting the name of E. F. Ayldotte, Esq., of this city, as one of the best to select as a judge of the Supreme Court. Mr. Ayldotte is one of the leading lawyers of the State and a Christian gentleman besides, and would fill the position with dignity and honor.

ALL STATE'S LAND FOR SALE.

Gen. Toon has 500,000 Acres Which he is Anxious to Dispose of.

Capt. K. S. Finch yesterday surrendered his claim to the State lands, sending to the Superintendent of Public Instruction checks for $2,353.67 in payment for lands sold under the option, which he recently held.

General Toon stated yesterday that all the State lands are for sale save those in Carteret and Tyrrell. In those counties the State lands are tied up. Rev. Bayless Carle has an option on half the State land in Carteret, which amounts to 100,000 acres, having secured the option from Mr. Finch. The State cannot revoke this option.

The money received yesterday goes to the school fund. The State owns 500,000 acres of land, which are for sale. The average price of this land, which is largely in water, is 50 cents an acre. General Toon is anxious to sell so as to secure funds for the schools.

Trade Prospects.

From all sections of the country come enthusiastic reports of the trade prospects for the season just entered upon. When crops are short, prices promise to more than make up the deficiency. The merchants, manufacturers and farmers of Hall county have cause to be hopeful and to anticipate a prosperous fall and winter. With a fair crop in this section and 8 cent cotton, which now appears to be probable, we may expect to have lively times this season.—Weldon News.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on. Mr. H. T. Shobe, 200 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the disfiguring disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unobscured cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and is the only one guaranteed purely vegetable.

Bad blood makes bad complexion. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

What is the difference between a lawless blood-thirsty Red Shirt and an anarchist?

BURNED TO DEATH.

Horrible Accident to Miss Laura Lemly, She Dies in agony.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 30.—Miss Laura Lemly, sister of Judge Advocate Samuel C. Lemly, who is engaged in the Schley case at Washington, and President W. A. Lemly, of Wachovia National Bank, this city, was horribly and fatally burned at 11 o'clock today at her home in Salem.

Her death occurred at 4:20 this afternoon. Miss Lemly was in the kitchen baking a fruit cake for her friend, Mrs. Dr. W. A. Lash, of Greensboro, when her wrapper ignited. The flames spread rapidly and she ran out in the yard screaming.

Her sister, Mrs. C. B. Brooks, was the only other person in the house at the time. When she heard the cries of her sister she rushed out and seeing Miss Laura in flames, Mrs. Brooks gathered a rug and wrapped it around her. Then she flew to get another rug, but when she returned the first one had fallen.

In her efforts to extinguish the flames, Mrs. Brooks' dress ignited, and in trying to save herself her hands were badly burned.

Several physicians were then quickly summoned, but as soon as they looked upon Miss Lemly they announced that her recovery could hardly be expected.

Her body was badly charred and blistered in places. The burns were almost continuous from head to foot. All of her clothing was burned off, and her face, eyes, and hair were frightfully disfigured. Her suffering was intense until one physician administered morphine. She was only able to speak a few words consciously after the sad accident.

Miss Lemly was about forty-five years old. She was a most estimable Christian lady, an honored and active member of St. Paul's Episcopal church, her sad death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

Winston-Salem shipped 1,343,180 pounds of manufactured tobacco this month.

AN OFFER TO ADJOURN COURT.

Washington, Sept. 30.—News was received here today of the death by burning of a sister of Captain Lemly, judge advocate of the Schley Court of Inquiry, which occurred in North Carolina yesterday. Immediately upon receipt of the news Admiral Schley and his counsel sent word to Captain Lemly offering to move the court to adjourn tomorrow, but the Captain had retired and could not be seen.

Fidgety

people are lacking in nervous strength. The weak, care-worn, melancholy, headachy, and low-spirited men and women are easily excited, impatient, fidgety, and unable to sleep at night. Worn-out nerves must be built up, and the vitality of the whole system replenished before relief can come.

"The least bit of noise or sudden jar would nearly drive me crazy, and I was just too fidgety for anything. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine brought me sleep, and after that I got well fast."

Raleigh Business Directory.

A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to building up a town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor go where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated.—T. DeWitt Talmage.

Woman and Home Circle.

Women in Dawson.

There is no place in the world where life is more interesting than in Dawson City, according to a woman who has just returned from that far-away community. The town is now a center of civilization, with telegraphic communication with the rest of the world and a system of transportation which has reduced the journey that occupied five months three years ago to a matter of three weeks; but it is still a city of log cabins, and life in it continues to possess some romance and novelty. Skagway and White Horse have become modern and commonplace towns, with frame houses and the most approved conveniences, but not so Dawson. There are a few frame houses in the business section, but the original log cabins with moss filling the crevices still serve as homes. Lumber still costs $100 a thousand feet in Dawson and bricks are 10 cents apiece, so that building is not a matter to be undertaken lightly.

Log cabins and the Dawson winter suggests anything but comfort to the uninitiated, but the Dawsonites become attached to their cabins and live in them with great content, many having been transformed into most interesting and artistic little dwellings. Most of them have been built with only one room, and a "great bedroom" is a rarity, but a bedroom can easily be curtained off, and as the families, when there are any families, are all small, two rooms answer tolerably well. Little additions, to be used as kitchens, are also being added. The walls of most of the cabins, where there is a woman among the occupants, have been papered, though it is extremely difficult to make the paper stay on, and the dark blankets, which every one used for carpets in the early days, have been replaced by rugs and "art squares," with matting around the edges.

Dawson is built on a mountain which rises straight up from the edge of the Klondike river, and the houses are built high up the slope, as the land at the foot is too expensive for anything but business purposes. They are thus most picturesquely situated, and with their little gardens around them—where lettuce, radishes, peas, beans and other vegetables are grown in the short, hot summer—they are often most attractive little abodes.

The chief difficulty in the way of comfortable living in Dawson is not peculiar to that city. It is the lack of servants. These troublesome assistants charge from $75 to $100 a month in Dawson, and it costs $50 more to board them, which is pretty expensive even for the Yukon. A few "Japs" have been imported recently for domestic service, and have proved so satisfactory that an effort will be made to secure others.

Food in Dawson is perhaps less satisfactory than shelter. It consists principally of canned stuffs and eggs are $1 a dozen. People would fare even worse if it were not for the caribou and moose, which provide fresh meat in abundance at comparatively small cost. The flesh of the caribou is said to be delicious, white and delicate as chicken. People dress in the city much as they do anywhere else in extremely cold weather, the extraordinary costumes one sometimes sees in pictures being rarely seen. Sledding with dogs is one of the favorite amusements. People never have "at home" days. The distances are so great and the cold in winter so intense that guests must be received whenever they find it convenient to come.—Richmond Times.

Mr. McKinley's life said to be insured for $100,000.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 14.—Well informed life insurance men of this city say that President McKinley carried from $100,000 to $2,000,000 on his life. One big New York company is said to have a single policy for $50,000. Mrs. McKinley is understood to be the beneficiary in all the policies.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle, by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

IS YOUR HEALTH VALUABLE?

Disease is always a handicap; it under men for business and pleasure—sometimes temporarily, often permanently. Life is a continuous struggle, and the man or woman afflicted with a Chronic Disease is outclassed at every turn. In this age of sharp competition, no man can hope to be successful unless sound in mind and body.

During my long career as a specialist, I have seen thousands who are carrying around some chronic disease as a burden, and who, by the proper treatment, which they could easily rid themselves of by the proper treatment. Any honest physician will tell you that these diseases are stubborn and chronic, and a special knowledge is required to treat them successfully. My special studies for treating Chronic Diseases have been acquired by twenty years of close application, devoted exclusively to their study and treatment. I have treated more cases than any other physician in the United States, and I thoroughly understand just what is required in each case. My specialty includes all chronic diseases, such as Stricture, Varicocele, Blood and Skin Disease, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, Diseases of Women, etc., and my original method of treatment has proven successful in even the most obstinate cases.

I CAN CURE YOU AT HOME. I have perfected a system of home treatment which enables me to cure you at your own home, as I have thousands of others. Write me fully about your case, and send for complete symptom blank. Correspondence confidential. Address: J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M.D., 223 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.

Some wives miss their husbands when away—and some miss them at home because their aim isn't accurate.

A gentleman living in Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "Having been a sufferer for a number of years from stomach trouble and biliousness induced by a sudden change of duty and irregular eating, I became irritable, cross and haggard. I was persuaded to try Epiplon Tablets. From the beginning I noticed a change, and have become so that I sleep regularly, eat with a relish and feel in the best of health. This was about six weeks ago, and I am still using the Tablets, taking from one to two a day. I can safely say the medicine has done me lots of good, and I shall be only too glad to recommend it to others."

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a H. P. A. N. E. T. tablet. It does not bar them from any home or justify any one in endeavoring life that are easily cured. For sale by Druggists.

Something That Will Please the Ladies of the Household.

There is something pleasant and cheery in the words "Good Times," no matter whether they are applied to existing conditions, to some period in the future, or as a name to a book or paper or anything. There's never any disadvantage in hearing the words.

A very attractive and interesting magazine—one that will especially interest the lady members of a household is named "Good Times." It is published monthly and is remarkable for the number of timely and good things it contains. There is an announcement of this magazine in this issue, and we will keep before the public for the next month.
